Someone passing up North Main street late yesterday afternoon saw a vapor which resembled smoke issuing from the upper windows in the brick house at No. 343, owned by Mrs. O. J. Bolster. Without waiting to verify his conclusions, the well intentioned person turned in a general alarm from box 12 at the corner of North Main and Seminary streets. First to respond was the auto fire truck and as soon as the firemen learned the real origin of the vapor the all-out signal was given. By that time, however, the horse-drawn trucks were rattling down the street, although the all-out whistle made further hurry unnecessary and the horses were returned to their quarters. Upon inquiry by the department officials it came out that tenants of the house were fumigating and that the usual precautions against fire were taken.
